ADULESCENS CONSTITUIT

Another stone on life's rough road is passed.
And now, far down the future's broadening way,
We see a ghostly shadow dim and gray.
Between are pitfall, maelstrom, mountains vast;
Beyond, the things we want in life are massed.
The night is dark; there is no guiding ray.
Nor will time wait for him who tarry may.
To take his place, a thousand hurry past.

Unlike the river destined to the sea,
'Tis optional to choose the path desired,
And matters not from whence you came but gone.
So choose to soar with eagles, high and free,
Forgetting not to lift the helpless mired.
Thus choose, oh youth, and happy, hurry on.

DEDICATION

MR. ROY FABIAN

Words cannot express the sincere appreciation and gratitude that we, the class of 1956, wish to extend to our advisor, Mr. Fabian. The many, long, tedious hours of work you contributed to our yearbook, along with the countless other projects, made them all successful. We shall always be humbly indebted to you for the friendship and guidance which you so generously gave to us throughout our four years at Berlin High School. To you, Mr. Fabian, we dedicate this, our yearbook.

CLASS HISTORY

As we reflect over the four years past, which we have spent in the "Dear Old and New Schools," many reminiscences remind us that we were not always as dignified as we feel at present.

FRESHMAN REMINISCENCES

At long last we have taken that big step—our first year at Berlin High School. Fears of the impending initiation loomed over us. But that all changed when the Seniors gave us a party that made us feel so much a part of Berlin High. In May we gave the Seniors a dance—saying farewell and thanks.

SOPHOMORE REMINISCENCES

Our second year of high school started in a brand-new school. It was a year when little else happened except our first big square dance which proved a tremendous success. It came to a quick close with plans for the following year as an upper classman.

JUNIOR REMINISCENCES

Third year and upper classmen at last—! The class rings arrived and soon were adorning the fingers of the Junior girls and the necklaces of a few lucky Sophomore girls. Not having too much experience, preparation went forward on our first formal—"Hit Parade." Originality has always been the by-word for our class. We proved it at our square dance when Dick Potash was voted most popular boy. His reward?—a chocolate pie in the face. The year ended in a twinkling, with the anticipation of our coming senior year with all its headaches and joys.

SENIOR REMINISCENCES

As we come to the close of our school days, we can truthfully say our Senior year has been the busiest and happiest of all. The year started off on the right foot when we initiated the freshmen to the best of our ability. It couldn't have been too bad, because the Freshmen Reception had a great turn out. About a month later we found ourselves involved in preparation for the first square dance of the season. Towards the middle of the year we were hard at work on the yearbook with time out to plan for the Senior Play. Senior Ball time arrived without warning; but we had learned how to take such things in our stride. Then finally commencement week, Class Day, the Banquet and at long last, in cap and gown we marched down the aisle at our own graduation.

And now the time has come for us to depart. However, we have not finished yet; we will go on to higher institutions or to other pursuits, to build on the foundation that we have received here. In building let us remember the words of the man who said, "Let every man take heed how he buildeth." As we feel the friendly hand-shake, and receive the best wishes of those who have labored so patiently with us, may we be more determined than ever to show them our appreciation and gratitude by using what they have given us wisely and courageously.

CLASS PROPHECY

B. H. S. Television presents "YOU WILL BE THERE."

Produced and directed by BOB HALL.

The year, 1966 — the month, June — the place, CHARLIE SASIELA'S gambling casino — better known as Champaigne Charlie's Paladium.

The first face you see is that of JIM HRENKO, human fly, scaling the walls of Charlie's amusement. FLASH! SA'AN HANES, mad scientist is using the Reno flats for her experimental work on the Backward "A" bomb. The question is, will it, or will it not work? An hour ago GALE CLARK, reporter for the "Reno Rattler" was sent to cover the story. Boom-m-m!! There's the explosion, folks. Boi-ing-ng-g! A tumble-weed seems to have been blown in from the desert. Why, it's Gale Clark. She's screaming, "It worked! It worked!" She comes to rest in front of Charlie's joint and is attended to by the parking lot attendant DON GARRISON. BOB KUCHARCZYK, local ambulance driver, wheels the victim to DICK COONEY'S Flop House, where belle-hop DUANE JOHNSON takes charge of the unconscious "sob sister." Deputy Sheriff, FLORENCE LORE, and city mayor, FRAN MEARZ, leave the dice tables just long enough to supervise this new emergency. They summon the only medical expert in the vicinity, JOHN HANSON, Medicine Man, who immediately administers a large dose of his original Oopakik Vitalizer. The anguished screams of the injured reporter bring forth patrons from the JUNE CULVER Beauty Emporium and the DiMUGNO Tonsillorium. There is the town's leading actress ELIZABETH EMERSON, her hair still in curlers and clips. Next to her, his face still in lather and clutching his latest book, "The Theory of Lady Bugs vs. Man Bugs," is that eminent scholar, LAWRENCE ZAROTNEY. The crowd that is gathering is made more orderly by the presence of State Policewoman ROSE ROOT. This also offers an opportunity for JUDY PAULOZ to sell subscriptions to "S.O.S." Magazine published by E. SACHETTI, R. OSIK, and G. SZILAGE. The reappearance of Gale causes the crowd to disperse and we see her heading, for obvious reasons, to MALINA'S Dressy Shoppe and PERRETTA'S Pedaporium (shoe store).

Now that the excitement has subsided we return to our original assignment, the coverage of the grand opening of the C. C. Paladium. We see congenial Champaigne Charlie welcoming those two Hollywood notables JOAN NAGY and GUS KARLSEN who are currently appearing in the new Fourth Dimension Extravaganza entitled "A Rocket Named Desire." They will be the first celebrities to leave their footprints in the cement walk in front of the Paladium. Preparing the sidewalk is the local mason and divorce consultant BILL DUNN. Standing near him is the club's bouncer BOB WELZ. Oh-oh something appears to be going wrong, they are unable to get their feet out of the cement. We now switch you to the kitchen of the casino.

This is "Scullery SALLY KINCAID" in the kitchen —

Supervising the kitchen is the international gourmet and cooking expert, HENRY MORA. He is examining the technique of that famous Maine potato peeler ANITA FOREMAN. Slaving over the stove crammed with bread and omelettes we find LYN JOHNSON. Entering the kitchen with a load of anti-hangover moo-juice is CAROL REYNOLDS, followed by JUDY PETOW with a hind-quarter from her private herd of Purple Angus steers. Delivering the rattlesnake meat from his Reptile Ranch is BOB ZIPADELLI. What is happening at the oven? The bread is out of control—Due to the impending danger, we switch you back to the gambling room.

The casino of the Paladium is now a hub-hub of activity. The croupiers of the various games of chance are JOE DEVIVO, cards; FRAN TOPA, dice; and RONALD KUHNLY, roulette. Betting quite heavily at the dice table is uranium mine owner WILLIAM KLEINSCHMIDT, who this evening is escorting the internationally known play-girl and race-horse owner, THELMA DAVIS. Assisting him in placing his bets is the noted female mathematician JEAN ZUK.

At DeVivo's table we see FRAN RIO, that paragon of children's virtues and writer of the answer to "Mother Goose Rhymes"—"Father's Goose is Cooked." Betting the number zero is PAUL "Pauncho" HENRIQUES, Mexican jumping bean grower. He is being encouraged by "Hackie JACKIE" DAIGLE, the American Women's Golf Champion. Trying to sell them a cigar-making "do-it-yourself kit" is cigarette girl CAROL CZERWINSKI.

Word has just been received from state officials that PAT WARD who is being investigated regarding irregularities in her mail-order Lonely Hearts Club is in town. Close on her trail is F.B.I. under-cover woman IRENE AUBIN and her gun carrier ROBERTA STURTEVANT. Story has it they are heading for the Paladium. Yes, here they come. Charlie has been told of their arrival, but he is in conference with pin-ball machine saleswoman, NANCY DORAN. He has appointed his official hostess LORETTA LENOIS to greet them. Bartender, JEAN PERKINS, rushes the refreshments to the newly arrived guests just as the curtain is pulled by BOB VERONESI for the floor show. The lights dim—we see the band members stumble into place. Among the familiar faces are DICK POTASH, the second Bobby Hackett, WALT LUND, saxophonist, MARVA SLEPSKI on the musical glasses, MARY ANN BURRELL on the ukulele and JANICE TREECE on the saw. The first selection sounds like an interpretation of Mayrzy Dotz with PHYLLIS ROMEGIALLI, torch singer, taking the vocal.

As the evening progresses splendidly so does the entertainment with a most unusual rendition of Eartha Kitt and Fats Domino by BARBARA LARSON and BOB JOHNSON. Mistress of ceremonies ELLI PETERSON is now announcing the dance routine of the chorus line with solos by NANCY DUTKIEWICZ and BOB ALBERT. A list of the chorus members has just been handed to us. Many well known names are present: DELORES KAMINSKI, MARY ANN MOGULSKI and WALLY LUNDSTROM. Here, too, credit must be given to STAN BAKAJ for his magnificent, different wardrobing work. The show is drawing to a close, but before it does one last personal appearance, the crown holders, Miss America—BEA HILTPOLD and muscle-man Mr. Universe—LEE GRANT. But what's this? There appears to be some sort of trouble brewing in the street. We switch you to RON SEABURG on the outside.

What started as a friendly conversation has turned into a brawl between football star BOB McCANN, and the assistant to the assistant football coach EDNA LAISCELL. We can't seem to get close enough to determine the cause of this dispute. ANN LUBY local "brawl disperser" is trying her best to quiet down the hassle with little success. IAN THORAN, visiting African missionary nurse, is here with Dr. BETTY KUNDE, personal physician to Albert Schwietzer. Nurse Thoran is lugging Dr. Kunde's big green bag behind her in case of any emergency. Bouncer Welz has just come through the swinging doors of the Paladium with a club and the fight has been stopped. Energetic and enthusiastic patrons of Charlie's are clearing the streets while at the same time the vice squad is closing Champaigne Charlie's Paladium—forever—

That's all for tonight, folks. We now switch you back to the studio and SANDY ZIEL, your host for this year.

This is Blushing Sandy Ziel. Remember, folks, you never can go wrong with a Rold's-67. It's the self-steering that counts.

When the roll is called up yonder—"YOU WILL BE THERE!"

CLASS WILL

We, the class of 1956 being of sound mind and purpose and knowing that we will pass on to higher accomplishments, do hereby make, publish and confirm this to be our last will and testament.

To Miss Gustafson we leave an automatic switch-board operator.

To Mrs. Corr we leave the locks on certain doors.

To Mr. Long we leave a sound-proof disciplinary chamber.

To Miss Le Van we leave a neat, orderly occupational file.

We leave Mr. MacKenzie, wishing we had known him better.

We leave Mr. Bates, seeing him 'round—like a meat ball.

To Mrs. Porter we leave a director's chair and megaphone.

To Mr. Goodrow we leave an ivy-covered tower located in the forest primeval.

We leave Miss Rakowski, waiting for the little man in the white coats.

To Miss Thompson, for her long flowing locks, we leave a hairnet.

To Mr. Fabian we leave our sincere thanks.

We leave Mr. Rittner, hoping his acting ability gets him to Hollywood.

We leave Mr. Landry, taking his star football players with us.

To Mr. Gibney we leave a new set of nerves for his Driver's Ed. class.

We leave Miss McBrien, roasting her wienies over her veni, vidi, vici's.

To Mrs. Vogel we leave a class of feminine Amazons to perform her desired calisthenics.

We leave Mr. Charland, taking with us the last of his original band.

To Miss Godzyk we leave a posture-pedic typing class.

We leave Mrs. Giannotta, saying in her sleep, "Quiet! This is the library."

We leave Mr. Harris, wiping his brow after his Music and Man class.

We leave Mr. Hubert, in his industrial art's aviary.

We leave Mr. Kevorkian, too pooped to pop.

To Mr. Merlino we leave some hair-restorer.

To Mrs. Murphy we leave a boy's Home Economics class.

To Miss McClure we leave expert student-tailors.

To Mr. D'Angelo we leave a halo and a harp.

We leave Mrs. Deming, "pinch-hitting" in the "English batter's box."

To Miss Earn we leave a pile of unanswered student questions.

We leave promoting Mrs. Bloomquist to head chef of the Waldorf-Astoria.

We leave Mrs. Beach, shaking her feather-duster out the window.

We leave Mrs. White, wishing her the best of luck in planning future menus.

To the seventh and eighth grade teachers we leave Worthington, Percival, Selden, and Ledge schools for specialized teaching and the Kensington Grammar School's old retaining wall to stem the tide.

ACTIVITIES

STUDENT COUNCIL

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council, a governing body of students chosen by the students and approved by the faculty, is one of the oldest organizations in the school. Representatives from the four high school classes meet once a week to discuss the problems and suggestions of faculty and students. This year's agenda included composing a school policy, governing social events, and helping out with the cafeteria situation whenever possible.

STUDENT COUNCIL OFFICERS

First row: Vice-President, Judy Bolles; President, Judy Pauloz; Corresponding Secretary, Elisabeth Emerson. Second row: Recording Secretary, Ruth Hanson; Treasurer, Barbara Labieniec; Advisor, Miss Marie LeVan.

STUDENT LIBRARIANS

The members of the Librarians' club perform a real service for Berlin High School. They are in charge of the library during the day when the librarian, Mrs. K. Gianotta, is teaching class. In addition they are responsible for the general appearance of the library and the mending of books.

Left to right: Jody Hess, Joan Munson, Mrs. Gianotta, Gale Clark, Arlene Martin, Lynn Brown.

KEY CLUB INTERNATIONAL

The Key Club International is a service club for sophomore, junior and senior boys. A part of the international organization, the local Key Club is affiliated with the New Britain Kiwanis Club and works under its supervision. The members are selected on the basis of leadership, character, and service. The Club serves the faculty, the student body, the school, and the community. Among the projects for this year are helping the bus-drivers supervise the kindergarten children riding the school buses, occupying traffic posts during fire drills, and operating the KC-donated scoreboard during football and baseball seasons. The Key Club sponsored inter-school dances and presented an award to the outstanding Industrial Arts student in the Senior Class.

DEBATE CLUB

The Debate Club is a comparatively recent addition to the extra-curricular activities of the school. Members of the team must be able to clearly present and substantiate useful arguments for or against a variety of subjects. Upon several occasions they were asked to compete with other schools and organizations.

MOTIF CLUB

The Motif Club, an organization open to all senior girls at Berlin High, has for its main objective the self improvement of all its members. Activities are planned that will include all of the girls. This year the girls visited a home for the aged and sang Christmas Carols, gave a food sale, and sold refreshments at home football and basketball games. A trip was planned for the spring.

As Berlin High's school newspaper, the Beacon hopes to express the students' ideas and keep the faculty and student body aware of the social and academic activities of the school. Under the supervision of Mrs. Phyllis Deming, the Beacon is in its tenth year of publication. Editor-in-chief of this year's Beacon is Gale Clark; News Editor, Sally Kincaid; Department Editor, Barbara Labieniec; Feature Editor, Ruth Hanson; Sports Editor, Bob Kucharczyk; Exchange Editor, Pat Moorehead; Alumni Editor, Gloria Huck; Circulation Editor, Sandy Ziel; Business Editor, Marva Slepksi. The Beacon is a member of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association and of the National Quill and Scroll Honor Society.

The magazine salesmen were at it again! This year, however, there was a little switch in procedure—the drive was held during the month of November rather than the usual February. Though not the highest amount of returns, Berlin made a good showing with $6758. The salesmen with over $10 in sales were entertained at a jamboree, and the students selling a sizable amount were treated to a trip to "Cinerama" and a hockey game in New York in February and a baseball game during the spring.

STUDENT DRIVERS

Members of the Student Driver Organization have set up a code for Berlin High dealing with the traffic laws and parking arrangements governing student drivers. Bob Albert, president, and his club members are trying to promote basic good driving habits.

SCIENCE CLUB

The Berlin High Science Club recently changed its name to the "Berlin Laboratory Detectives." This organization is open to any student interested in science and experimentation. Each week a program is presented and refreshments served following the meeting.

Standing, left to right: Paul Perry, Larry Hull, Mr. Ritner, Carol Naliwajik, John Perry, Charles Hislop, Bruce Blomgren, Mr. DiMauro, Mr. Downer, Nancy Doran, John Burnett. Seated, left to right: Cynthia May, Judy Fritzson, Patricia Bodack, Emily Perretta, Joyce Pernal, Judy Michalski, Carol Bugay. Officers: President, Emily Perretta; Vice-President and Treasurer, Joyce Pernal; Secretary, Patricia Bodack; Sponsor, Mr. A. DiMauro.

HARTFORD SYMPHONY YOUTH CONCERT
Berlin High School Chorus · Dec. 10, 1955
Bushnell Memorial

CHORUS

This year's chorus, under the supervision of Mr. William Harris, made an appearance at the Bushnell Memorial in December, traveled to Bridgeport for the Music Festival in March, and closed a very successful year with the annual Spring Concert in April.

MUSIC CLUB OFFICERS

President, Dick Potash; Vice-President, Alan Dickinson; Secretary, Nancy Hall; Treasurer, Sandra Burava; Director, William V. Harris.

DANCE BAND

The dance band, during its past three years, has grown into a "real cool combo" with a "solid beat" that really "sends the cats" at BHS. They have made several stage appearances—the introduction to the Magazine Drive, Talent Shows, etc.—and have played for the Jr. High socials and the Magazine Drive Jamboree.

Seated: J. Fritzon, C. Peterson, Ed Vater, director; H. Mora, P. Woodruff, R. Kuhnly, P. King, W. Lund. Standing: R. Berg, R. Kucharczyk, J. Buckley, W. Seelig, R. Potash, P. Humphrey, R. Hall.

BOYS' INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL TEAMS

The spirit ran high every Thursday afternoon when some thirty boys from grades nine through twelve came out to play basketball. It was just one of many activities in which the boys participated.

GIRLS' INTRAMURALS

Girls' Intramurals for this year included basketball, volleyball, badminton, and field hockey. Mrs. Rosaleen Vogel served as advisor for all the functions. These sports offer the girls a chance to participate in competitive sports. Over one hundred girls competed in these after-school activities.

Bob Albert Co-captains Bob McCann

Combining the hard, never-say-die running of Seniors Rio, McCann, DiMugno and Johnson and the fine punting of Eddie Maguda, the Redcoats were able to garner an undefeated season, marred only by the tie game with Farmington. Berlin's great record qualified it to be singled out for top honors by the CIAC Class "S" Committee. The jarring defensive line play of Seniors Cooney, Potash, Bakaj, and Albert was instrumental in the very low points-scored-against-Berlin average.

VARSITY

Displaying a well-balanced attack and strengthened by an exceptionally strong bench, Berlin moved to a ten-win and six-loss record. High scoring honors for the individual games were shared by each of the starting five. Although all this would add up normally to a successful season, the C.I.A.C. approved a new set of rules for the 1956 tourney, which involved a complicated point system, and as a result, Berlin was not one of the sixteen qualifying teams. However, the school is proud of its spirited Redcoats and their coaches.

Attempting to duplicate the season of 1955—during which time the Redcoats won the unofficial Class "S" championship and was runner-up in the State tourney competition—the Berlin nine of 1956 swung into action against some of the top Class "S" teams in the State. Although lacking in depth in the pitching department, the Berlin nine came through with fine fielding plays and timely hitting at the plate to produce a thrilling season.
